Explosion at Swanton.

An explosion at the Robin Hood Powder Co.'s works in Swanton early Wednesday afternoon, killed O. Blair outright, injured several other employees, but not seriously, and wrecked several buildings. Not more than two or three minutes before the explosion, J. W. Mountain, the superintendent, was in the mixing room with Blair and handed him a bag of marbles which were to be used in the process of mixing a batch of powder. Mr. Mountain left Blair, returning to a nearby building, and was in the act of washing his hands when the explosion occurred. What Blair did in those late two minutes that elapsed after Mr. Mountain's departure will never be known. The noise of the explosion was heard for several miles and the shock broke panes of glass in windows there and in swanton three-quarters of a mile away. The fields round about the factory were strewn with pieces of boards, clothing, and fragments of the unfortunate Blair. So long as the explosion had to come, without regard to the unfortunate death of Mr. Blair, it could not have come at a more opportune time, nor when so few employees would have been in danger. The powder company cannot yet estimate the amount of damage to its property, but it is not likely to exceed $2,500. No account is made of the loss of business, but the work can be resumed. This will take six weeks. Mr. Blair was 35 years old, was formerly a resident of Albion, and leaves a wife and four children.

Vermont Dairymen.

Among the speakers already engaged for the meeting of the Vermont Dairy-men's Association at Burlington, January 5, 6 and 7 are ex-Gov. W. D. Hoard, H. C. Adams, member of congress from Madison, Wis., both of national reputation as lecturers on dairy work, Prof. J. L. Hills, Burlington, Henry Van Dresher, New York; E. Sudendorf, secretary National Creamery and Buttermakers' association, St. Louis; and M. A. Adams, M. H. Clarke and others of state reputation. Tuesday evening will be given to the Ladies' Auxiliary and a banquet will be served Wednesday at the Van Ness house, when it is expected D. J. Foster of Burlington will act as toastmaster. Large premiums and specials will be offered for dairy products. It is hoped that every creamery in the state will make a special effort to exhibit a sample of butter, and also that their respective buyers will attend the meeting as well as every dairyman and join in the discussions and have a short experience meeting after each address.

Boy's Zeal Unhappily Ended.

Olney, the 11-year-old son of Charles Cowen of South Royalton, died Thursday evening. He and other children attending school in the village have been obliged to get across the river as best they could for the past three months while the old wooden bridge was being removed and new abutments and a steel bridge were being erected. Teams have been fording the river all this time but two weeks ago, for a few days, people were taken across the river in a boat. In getting into the boat the boy slipped and fell into the water. He continued in school with his wet clothes on in order to save an absent mark, in that way contracting a severe cold which resulted in his death.

Kearney post G. A. R., of East Wallingford, has voted to disband as only nine members survive. The post was formed a few years after the close of the civil war with a membership of over 50. It has been a flourishing organization but nearly all the members are dead.

Four cottages were burned at Queen City park, near Burlington, Wednesday night. The cottages burned were owned by D. W. C. Clapp, Mrs. Nichols, George Fowler of Lynn, Mass., and Don H. Chapman of Cambridge. The loss will be about $3,000, and will be covered by insurance. As an attempt was made to set fire to the cottages about a year ago, this fire is thought to have been the work of an incendiary.

Edward Clark, aged 70 years, widely known as a dealer in pianos and organs, died at Brattleboro, Thursday. He was formerly a music dealer at Montpelier and later at Brattleboro.

The millinery store of Nichols & Rudd at Bennington has been closed under attachment. Most of the liabilities are to local people, including a claim of $800 of W. H. Nichols, husband of one of the firm, which is secured by a mortgage. The assets are much less than liabilities.

William Keyes of the fish hatchery at Roxbury had quite a fight with one of the deer in the state enclosure recently. The animal made a furious attack with his horns but not being very heavy Mr. Keyes was able to handle him, but nevertheless suffered from the severe strain for some time. It is not thought safe for strangers to enter the enclosure where the deer are kept.

The 100th anniversary of the First Congregational church of Fair Haven was celebrated last week Sunday and Monday by appropriate services, which were very largely attended. At the morning service Sunday, after an appropriate sermon by the pastor, Rev. Robert H. Hall, 12 persons were taken into membership of the church at the communion service which followed an individual communion set was used for the first time. At 7 o'clock a union service was held, at which Rev. Rufus C. Flagg of New Berlin, N. H., delivered an address on "The Uses of the Church." Monday afternoon the historical service was held. The history of the church was given by the pastor and was followed by a poem by E. H. Phelps. At 6:30 o'clock a banquet was served in the dining room of the church and was attended by about 150 members of the church and society and invited guests.

While his parents were in town, Sunday, Nov. 15, Everett, the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell of West Swanton, took some corn stalks and matches to smoke as he had seen others do with cigars. In lighting the matches his clothes took fire and he ran out doors. He was so severely burned that he died Tuesday following.

John McGarry, 60 years old, was instantly killed Nov. 17 in a slate quarry near Poulney. Slabs of slate fell from the top, striking him on the head and crushing it. He leaves a young wife and two children. This was the second fatality of the kind in that section within a week.

The Vermont association of Boston held its first talk last week Wednesday evening at the Westminster with about 100 present. Col. Josiah H. Benton presided over the evening's program, the main feature of which was a paper on Vermont town histories by Wade Keyes. Col. Benton also spoke on Matthew Lyons, who was a member of congress from Vermont, Kentucky and Arkansas. Col. Benton, in behalf of the association, presented Supt. Joseph F. Scott of the state reformatory at Concord with a gold-wedding cane, appropriately inscribed. Mr. Scott is soon to go to Elmira, N. Y. The association has grown from about 400 to about 670 since last spring, when a suite was taken at this hotel.

A patent on a block signal system has been granted at the interior department to Israel H. Francisco of Rutland. William J. Knox of West Fairlee, has assigned to the G. Westinghouse company, of Pittsburgh, his patents for making cuprous magnetic oxide and for another chemical compound.

At his own request Rev. Charles F. Partridge of Woodstock has been released from the pastoral oversight of the Methodist church, save in cases of sickness or death, but by desire of the officials of the church will continue to supply the pulpit on Sunday and conduct the mid-week service when possible until the first of April, which closes the conference year. Mr. Partridge will devote all his time to school work, teaching certain subjects in the high school and giving the remainder of the time to a more thorough supervision of all the schools in town.

The newest railroad rumor is that which is being talked more or less spiritedly at East Barre, and that is a branch line of the Boston & Maine railroad from Bradford to East Barre, and thence to Barre. Whether there is any authority back of the talk is not known. If the line were to be built it would run from Bradford to East Barre by way of Pike Hill, where the copper mines are located.

A terrible accident took place on Jones Bros. light quarry at Barre, Wednesday, when Joseph Badger was severely injured and his body horribly mangled by a blast of dynamite. He was loaded a drill hole with dynamite and probably tampered it too hard. The blast exploded and the tamping stick was blown into his eyes. Both hands were badly lacerated. The little finger on one hand had to be amputated and the bone in the other arm was broken in two places. He may recover but will be totally blind. He is about 38 years old and has a wife and one child.

There seems to be a demand for teachers in various parts of the state. A request was received by the superintendent of education, Wednesday, for a teacher in the Bellows Falls high school, and three were received Thursday, one from Cabot, one from Peacham and another from Sherburne.

Rev. Patrick J. Doherty, of St. Albans, has been appointed to succeed Rev. C. C. Delany transferred to the Windsor parish. Father Doherty is a native of Northfield and was ordained last December at Grand Ligne Seminary, Montreal.

The Brattleboro license commissioners granted a first class license to Patrick L. Shea for a saloon and a first class license to Cecil C. Turner, lessee of the American house. Mr. Turner is a brother of J. Frank Turner, the former lessee of the American house, whose license was revoked. The application of George Danew, the lessee of the Brattleboro house, was deferred until after the hearing on the application of H. B. Hans, of the Melrose house at West Brattleboro, as only one more can be granted. One reason for the discrimination against the Brattleboro house is that it is mortgaged to the Springfield, (Mass.), Brewing Co. The decision does not meet with popular approval.

George Sylvester, a young man living on a farm about two miles from West Enosburg left his home Friday morning to set traps for muskrats. When he did not return home at night search was made for him but no trace of him was found. The search was resumed the next morning and an older brother, Nelson Sylvester, found him on the bank of a small stream lying with his head in the water. Death was not caused by drowning. The young man had been in poor health for some time and had had several fits and was quite evident that he was attacked by a severe one while setting a trap on the bank of the stream and fallen forward down the bank and died.

The buildings on the farm of DeWitt C. Cene, one of the best in that section, about a mile and a quarter from Waterbury, were burned Nov. 17. About 11 o'clock Mrs. Greene saw the flames bursting from the large barn. Before Mr. and Mrs. Greene could dress the fire had been communicated to the house, and their escape was none too soon for their safety. Little was saved from the house. The losses include a double house, four barns, one large shed, and a large silo. Seventeen head of cattle and four hogs were also burned. The property was insured in the Vermont Mutual Co. for $3,600, which will nearly cover the loss.

A motion to set aside the verdict in the case of Gilman B. Wilson, of Dorset, against William G. Freedly, of Philadelphia, recently tried in United States court in Rutland, in which a verdict of $10,145.66 was awarded the plaintiff, has been decided in favor of the defendant by Judge Wheeler. The judge orders the plaintiff to remit $5,660.83 of the verdict within 20 days, or the whole verdict will be set aside.

Francis Batchelder & Co. of Boston, have purchased land at Sheldon on which to build a butter factory, which will be erected at once. A bridge will be built over the highway running to the B. & M. station and a side grade will be laid. The agent and general manager of the company has been in conference with the farmers and received much encouragement.

A cablegram received from ex-Gov. C. S. Page of Hyde Park contained the news that he would sail for home on the Kronprinz Wilhelm, leaving Bremen November 17.

Judge Carolus Noyes died at Burlington last Wednesday of apoplexy. Though feeble of late he had been about the city daily. He was a member of a well known Hyde Park family. He was born Jan. 23, 1823, and was graduated from the University of Vermont in 1847, being a classmate of G. G. Benedict, George H. Paul and John B. Perry. He was admitted to the bar in 1850 and practiced law at Burlington for a long time, being prominent in local affairs. He represented the town of Burlington in the state legislature in 1860. He was judge of the city court, 1872-73. He leaves a wife and one daughter, Mrs. Clyde Buck-stoff, of Oshkosh, Wis.

D. W. Temple, for many years a dry goods merchant in Montpelier, died Thursday night, after a three years' illness. He was 53 years old.

Z. B. Hopkins, Brandon, has been appointed by Gov. McCullough a member of the state board of pharmacy. The commission bears date of Nov. 30, 1903, and the appointment is for five years.

Dr. W. M. Huntington, a veteran physician and highly esteemed citizen of Rochester, died at his home there Thursday. He was 84 years of age and leaves a wife and one son, Dr. W. D. Huntington, at one time surgeon general of the state and widely known throughout Vermont. At one time the deceased represented the town of Rochester and he was the first president of the White River medical society, a member of the Vermont state and the national medical societies and a member of the pension board from 1890 to 1895.

On November 16 over $100,000 was distributed among the employees of the Vermont Marble Co. at Proctor as wages for the month of October. This is one of the largest pay rolls the company has ever met, although the amount of the roll is constantly increasing.

The resignation of W. H. Greene, station agent at the Central Vermont station in Burlington for the past 19 years, sent in last June, has been accepted. He will be succeeded by W. H. P. Luckett of South Royalton. Mr. Greene has also acted for the Rutland road, the station being a union one.

The first reduction in cotton mill wages in this state has been announced at North Pownal, when notices were posted in the North Pownal Manufacturing Company's mills ordering a cut of ten per cent. on and after November 23. This plant is operated on the schedule paid in Berkshire County, Mass. The mills in this section raised wages early in 1902, the following year the advance in Fall River, and the pending decrease is in line with the general movement throughout southern New England. Business there has been dull this year on account of the high price of cotton, the mills in North Pownal and Williamstown having been shut down two months during the summer.

The Brattleboro chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution voted at its November meeting to give $100 toward the tablet that is to be placed on the old camp-ground by the patriotic societies of Vermont. Mrs. Nettie Starr Clement presented the chapter with a brick secured at the time the hall of records, originally "the new jail," was being torn down in the City Hall park, Brooklyn. The memento is valued from the fact that Ethan Allen is said to have been confined in the dungeon there during the Revolution.

What is Catarrh?

Hymoi Cures This Common and Disagreeable Disease.

Hymoi cures catarrh by the simple method of breathing it into the air passages and lungs. It kills the germs of catarrhal poison, heals and soothes the irritated mucous membrane, enters the blood with the oxygen and kills the germs present there, effectually driving this disease from the system.

The complete Hymoi outfit costs but $1.00 and comprises an inhaler, a bottle of Hymoi and a dropper. The inhaler will last a lifetime; and additional bottles of Hymoi can be obtained for 50c.

If you have any of the following symptoms, catarrhal germs are at work somewhere in the mucous membrane of the nose, throat, bronchial tubes or tissues of the lungs.

offensive breath
dryness of the nose
stopping of the nose
pain in back of the head
aching of the body
droppings in the throat
mouth wide open while sleeping tickling back of the throat hawking to clear the throat formation of crusts in the nose dryness of the throat in the morning
loss of strength
spasmodic coughing
cough short and hacking
cough worse nights and mornings loss in vital force
a feeling of tightness across the upper part of the chest

Hymoi will destroy activity of all catarrhal germs in the respiratory organs and in a few weeks the cure will be complete.

This is a strong statement, but W. B. Eastman emphasizes it by agreeing to refund your money if Hymoi does not cure.

Confidence.

It's words that come from the heart backed by the speaker's deep conviction that give one confidence!

The Rev. Fr. Goulet, pastor of St. Edmund's Church at Ellenburg Corners, N. Y., has taken the world's greatest tonic, with good results. The words of such a man, a sincere son of the church, and respected and beloved by his people, give confidence.

Dr. Greene's Nervura

The Rev. Fr. Goulet says:

"I desire to recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy for dyspepsia and sleeplessness. It has been used for that with very beneficial results, and it gives me great pleasure to thus publicly announce the benefits Dr. Greene's Nervura has conferred upon myself and my friends. My permission is freely granted to publish this letter."

Druggists throughout the United States recommend and sell Dr. Greene's Nervura. Dr. Greene's advice is free. Write to 34 Temple Place, Boston, Mass.

Military Order Loyal Legion.

The 12th anniversary banquet of the Vermont Commandery of the Military Order of the Loyal Legion was held at Burlington last week Tuesday. At the business meeting memorial reports were read for Lieut. C. C. Kinsman, Capt. P. D. Blodgett, Capt. F. S. Brown, and Lieut. J. S. Tupper. The resignation of Admiral Charles E. Clark as junior vice-commander of the commandery was read. Admiral Clark resigned on account of his election to the office of junior vice-commander in the national commandery. It was voted not to accept the resignation. Ten persons were elected to membership in the order. The banquet was served at the Van Ness House, Commander G. G. Benedict presiding over the postprandial exercises. The speakers were Col. W. S. Shuyler, U. S. A.; Lieut. J. H. Goulding of Wilmington; ex-Gov. U. A. Woodbury; Maj. Gen. O. Howard; Lieut. Col. G. P. Borden; Maj. J. L. Barstow; Isaac Thomas; G. H. Burrows.

The Tuberculosis Commission.

The state tuberculosis commission consisting of Dr. Don D. Groat, of Waterbury, chairman, Dr. H. Edwin Lewis, of Burlington, secretary, Dr. W. N. Bryant, of Ludlow, Dr. L. W. Hubbard, of Lyndon, and Henry Ballard, of Burlington, are taking a week's trip to inspect the latest and best methods that are being employed to fight the disease that annually claims so many victims in New England. The commission will inspect the Massachusetts sanitarium at Rutland, in that state, going from there to New York. The Loomis sanitarium at Liberty, N. Y., will be visited, and if time permits one institution in New Jersey and one at Sharon, Mass. The commission has been instructed by Governor McCullough to obtain all the information possible regarding the most approved methods of dealing with tuberculosis and to report later as to the advisability of establishing a state sanitarium in Vermont, including cost, location, etc.

Dr. George Stephens of White River Junction is one of the Vermont veterinarians designated by the state boards of Massachusetts and New Hampshire to test in this locality cattle for tuberculosis imported from, or on their way to, those states.

Edwin B. Dodge, aged 63, for many years an engineer on the Central Vermont railroad, died Friday night at his home at Rutland. He had been ill for many years with creeping paralysis. He was a Master Knight Templar, and a veteran of the Civil War, having participated in many battles, including Gettysburg.

Robert Whipple of North Adams, Mass., has received notice that President Roosevelt has appointed him second lieutenant in the regular service, and he was ordered to appear for examination before a board January 12 next. The young man, who is about 21 years old, is a student in the engineering department of the University of Vermont, and has nearly completed his studies in that department.

Dr. Allen Hazen died at the Roosevelt Hospital in New York Tuesday, Nov. 17, following an operation for appendicitis. He was born in Jericho 36 years ago and graduated from the University of Vermont in 1888, being one of seven brothers who have graduated from that institution, of which the father was also a graduate.

The Waterbury state hospital for the insane is without funds, and lacks $5,000 of the sum necessary to meet its November bills. The appropriation of $160,000 for the year ending December 1, has been exhausted and no more money can be drawn until the first of next month, when the second year's appropriation will be available for use. If the expenses of the institution in 1904 are as great as they have been this year, the deficit for the period of two years will amount to more than $10,000. The cause of the shortage is said to be the increase in the number of insane patients sent to the hospital beyond the estimate made when the appropriation was voted.

Sign Bond Protects You.

MI-O-NA Costs You Nothing if It Fails to Restore Health, Says W. B. Eastman.

The poor, thin, emaciated dyspeptic, when he becomes plump, rosy and robust, after using MI-O-NA, forgets that there is such a thing as indigestion.

This treatment is entirely different from any other medicine or treatment for dyspepsia. It is so different and so uniformly successful that W. B. Eastman wants every reader of the CALEDONIAN to take MI-O-NA for a month at his risk. In order that there may be no misunderstanding he will give the following signed bond with every package:

GUARANTEE BOND.

I hereby agree to refund the price paid for MI-O-NA if the purchaser tells me that it has not increased his food and given freedom from stomach troubles.

You will be your own judge as to whether you pay for MI-O-NA or not. Simply leave 50c on deposit with W. B. Eastman, getting his signed bond which will protect your deposit.

This remarkable flesh-forming food is assimilated as soon as it is taken into the stomach, produces good, rich blood, tones up the weakened digestive organs and makes permanent cures in the worst cases of dyspepsia.

You certainly can afford to start using MI-O-NA today when W. B. Eastman takes all the risk of its giving satisfaction.
